

TTM Technologies, Inc. to Present at the JP Morgan H&Q Technology Conference

May 2, 2001

REDMOND, WASHINGTON— – February 8May 2, 2001— – TTM Technologies, Inc. (Nasdaq: TTMI), a leading manufacturer of time-critical, technologically advanced printed circuit boards, will today reported results for the fourth quarter and full year ended December 31, 2000. Despite deteriorating conditions in the electronics industry, the company posted solid growth and profitability in the quarter.

participate in the JP Morgan H&Q 29th Annual Technology Conference being held this week in San Francisco.

Kent Alder, President and CEO, and Steve Richards, Treasurer, will review discuss the company's successful execution of its time and technology strategy, as well as its proactive response to challenging industry conditions.

TTM will be presenting at 11:30 a.m. Pacific time on May 3. In conjunction with this appearance, the company will simulcast its presentation on the Internet at. Listeners will need to access the following web address:

(at www.jpqh.com/events. Click on "Technology Conference Webcast", and allow a few minutes to register. need to get this information...com.....)

A replay of the broadcast will be available for two weeks at the above listed address on this same Web site.

TTM Technologies, Inc. is a leading supplier of time-critical, technologically advanced printed circuit boards to original equipment manufacturers and electronic manufacturing services companies. TTM stands for time-to-market, representing how the company's time-critical, one-stop manufacturing services enable customers to shorten the time required to develop new products and bring them to market. TTM completed its IPO in September 2000 and trades on the Nasdaq National Market System under the symbol "TTMI.